Notes	Saturday Evening and Morning Masses (through 1:45 PM) are the 4th Sunday of Advent; Christmas Masses begin at 4:00 PM.

The Christmas Season is not so much a season as it is a collection of feasts, each reflecting a facet of the meaning of the incarnation. Together, this complex of feasts helps us understand what it means to name Jesus Christ “Emmanuel” — “God who is with us.” The major festivals of the Christmas Season are deeply theological rather than historical. That is, unlike the Paschal Triduum, which is linked to the time of year that Jesus died, these celebrations are not linked in any way to the actual date of Jesus’ birth. We don’t know what time of year that was (though it was probably in or about the year 6 or 4 BCE, and he was probably born in Bethlehem). Instead, the Christmas feasts highlight the theological meaning of Jesus and his mother: Jesus is truly human as well as truly divine; his mission as the Christ is to the whole world; that mission involves such routine parts of human existence as family life; and we are involved in Christ’s mission through baptism. The Solemnity of Mary Mother of God (January 1) focuses on Mary’s unique place in salvation history as well as on the intimate involvement of human beings in the fulfillment of the divine plan: God has chosen to act through us to reveal the meaning of creation.
